

REPORT NAMES OF NEW BABIES

City Needs Them to Complete Record of Births In Ogden

Cooperation of parents is asked by the Ogden City board of health in making the city birth records complete.

Of the 1238 babies born in Ogden city in the last year, only 210 given names have been supplied for the city records in the health department, leaving over 1000 birth records incomplete because the child's name has not been supplied.

At the time of birth, the attending physician or nurse fills out the birth certificate and mails it to the health department for permanent record. As the child is seldom named at the time of birth, it becomes necessary for the parents to send the name to the health office as soon as it has been selected. If parents really understood the importance of these complete records, they would see that all names are supplied, the officials said. Health officials ask that all parents mail the name in as soon as possible after the child has been named.

Births reported during the last week follow:

TWO AUTOS HIT; ONE TIPS OVER

Mrs. R. W. Treseder Has Two Ribs Broken; Burton Family Bruised

W. F. Burton, manager of the Burton Implement company, Mrs. Burton, her mother, Mrs. R. W. Treseder, the Burton's daughter, Jane and son, W. T. Burton, narrowly escaped serious injury when the five passenger sedan automobile in which they were riding Friday evening was overturned after being struck by an automobile driven by Frank J. Stevens. All of the occupants were severely bruised and Mrs. Treseder sustained two broken ribs on the right side. She was reported as resting easily at her home yesterday.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Twenty-sixth street and Adams avenue.

Mr. Burton was driving east on Twenty-sixth street and Mr. Stevens was driving south on Adams avenue. As the two cars neared the intersection neither driver seemed to be aware of the approach of the other.

In attempting to avoid the Stevens' car, Mr. Burton swung to the right. The Stevens' car struck the left hind wheel of Mr. Burton's car, the impact driving the rear end of Mr. Burton's car around until it pointed in a northeasterly direction, and then toppling it over on its right side.

Mr. Stevens hastened to the aid of the occupants, who were helped out of the car and though severely bruised were able to walk.
